

Stop and Smell the Roses

Sanborn Creek Roses

424 Sanborn Creek Rd. Priest River
(208) 448-1546

In an attempt to offer cold zone and short season roses on their own root stock, we have started growing roses that are hardy down to zone 2 and 3.

The 100 year roses like Granny used to have.

A rose is a rose is a myth; roses are as different as they are alike. For warmer climates grafted roses can be grown with limited success. However, in the north and northwest hardy roses on their own root stock is a necessity. All our roses are grown from seed or propagated on their own root stock.

We have over 60 years experience of growing, and many hours of research have gone into choosing the varieties we are growing. Many have parents from Russia, Germany, Siberia, Northern Canada, even Greenland and Newfoundland, and other parts of Northern Europe.

Why own root? No graft to protect means; winter hardiness- no suckering, longer life, virus free, truer to form, more bloom in colder areas.

Much longer lasting.

We have close to 50 varieties, many of them are the newer Canadian Explorer series, Canadian Artist series and the good old fashioned varieties that last for years and years in the northern gardens and landscapes. Other shrub trees and plants available. Stop by and look. We are open when we are home. So it is best to call first, if not regular business hours.
